Eight Schools In Tournament Starting Today

Led by favored Missoula, eight high school teams start competition to decide four state-tourney entrants this afternoon in the Northern division basketball tournament at the Field House.

Teams from Glasgow, Lewistown, Havre, Great Falls, Helena, Kalispell, Butte Central, and Missoula will tussle for the fifth time in Missoula since the start of the tourney in 1934.

The influx of high school students will be utilized as a community project to boost Missoula and the University. Ticket prices have been kept down and high school guests will be housed about the University with students from their home towns. Many of the high schoolers will eat in the Lodge.

Northern teams have copped the state crown six years running and the Big 16 title for the last four years. Northern division squads also, have romped to the state championship 10 of the last 11 years. Anaconda took the state tourney at Missoula in 1948.

Law Keglers Top Tourney For 3rd Year

For the third straight year the law school won the intramural bowling league Saturday, the final day of play, when they won two out of three games from Jumbo hall.

Phi Delta Theta finished two games short of first place, to rank second. PDT bowlers lost their chance to finish in a first place tie when they dropped all three of their games to Sigma Chi.

Sigma Nu took third place in the final standings by winning two out of three from Craig hall. Jumbolaya maintained a fourth place tie with SX on the final day by sweeping three from Theta Chi. Phi Sigma Kappa jumped to sixth in the standings by winning all three games from Sigma Alpha Epsilon, while seventh place Jumbo was losing to the Lawyers.

In other final day results Sigma Phi Epsilon picked up three from Phi Epsilon Kappa by forfeiture, and Forestry took two from Alpha Tau Omega.

Highs for the day went to the law school with a game of 892 and a series total of 2419. Don Lucas of the Lawyers had the high individual series with 547 and Boyd Swingley, SX, had the high game with 210.

The annual University bowling tourney will be held at the Liberty Bowling alley this Saturday. Trophies and cash will be awarded for the high series and singles, with and without handicaps.

All bowlers in the league are eligible to compete in the tourney if they have registered in advance, paid the registration fee of $1.50, and have established handicaps.

Final league standings are: Law, 31-8; PDT, 29-10; SN, 27-12; SX and Jumbolaya, 25-14; TX, 22½-16½; PSK, 19-20; Jumbo, 18½-20½; SAE, 17-22; Forestry, 16-23; Craig, 15-24; ATO, 12-27; SPE, 11-28; and PEK, 2-37.

UNA WOOD DEMONSTRATES USES OF BREAD IN COOKING

Una Wood of the American Institute of Baking gave a demonstration Monday to about 90 home economics students on uses of bread in cooking, according to Miss Helen Gleason, professor of home economics.

The American Institute of Baking is the research branch of the American Bakers association and tests baking products in order to improve them.

Miss Wood also discussed the nutritional values of bread, and gave suggestions for glazing rolls.

The demonstration was one of the first large meetings in the Women's Center lecture room.

Schools Receive $14 Million; Proposal for Construction Fails to Pass Legislature

By United Press

The Montana Senate passed a $14 million appropriation bill from the state's general funds to pay for operation and maintenance of the six-unit Greater University of Montana system for the next two years.

The appropriation is about $2 million more than was appropriated in 1953.

The Senate also approved a $60 thousand bill for the state college at Bozeman to use on experiments to find commercial uses for coal by-products.

A proposed $10 million bond issue measure for Montana's six units had a short life in the House of Representatives after it failed to get unanimous House support yesterday morning and was turned down in the rules committee in the afternoon.

The measure might have brought MSU between three and four million dollars for the construction of academic buildings.

In an attempt to keep the request alive a motion was made to amend the rule which requires unanimous support. Representative Dean Chaffin of Gallatin county requested early yesterday that the house allow the measure to be introduced.

The house failed to give Chaffin the needed unanimous support when five representatives failed to support the request.

A committee member said the measure was killed because "we were afraid a sales tax would be imposed instead of the mill levy and we thought the Senate would turn it down anyway."

Chaffin suggested that the measure be sent to the rules committee where a favorable report could have gotten the bill into the legislative hopper by a majority vote from the floor.

The proposed measure would then have gone before the state's 1956 general election voters as a referendum. Chaffin said the bond issue would be used "for the purpose of putting our university system back in the position it deserves."

The general fund at the present time, he added, is unable to produce the money needed by the system for non-recurring items. He said the university units are willing to have $350 thousand cut from each of their budgets if the measure were passed through the current session.

The bond issue calls for issuance of $10 million worth of series bonds to be paid off in 20 years from a one and one-half mill levy on the state's property owners.

Professor Whitesel Resigns Post Here

Theodore L. Whitesel, associate professor of business administration, has announced his resignation from the University faculty, effective at the end of the current school year.

Whitesel has been on the faculty since September, 1952, when he joined the business administration staff to teach finance and banking subjects. He received his Ph.D. degree at the University of Illinois and taught at that school, Cornell university, University of Detroit, University of Arkansas and Parsons college, in Iowa.

The principle reason for the resignation is "to seek a teaching position that will afford more opportunity for greater application of my training in the field of economics, than my present position does," Whitesel said.

Utahs Beat Grizzlies, 79-70; Howard Sets Soph Record

A six-man Utah scoring attack empowered a four-man Grizzly defense last night as the Farmers defeated Jiggs Dahlberg's final team at the Grizzly basketball gym with a 79-70 victory in the Field House.

Six Farmers scored in double figures, Dave Anderson setting the pace with 16. Lee Boothe hit 11, in the first half, and Boyd Adams snapped 14 in the final stanza. Bart Johnson, the Sky-e's fifth-leading scorer, flipped before fouling out and surrounded Pat Dunn bucketed 13.

Ray Howard survived a bruising backboard battle to drag down rebounds and tally 26 points. Howard Zip Rhoades flashed hot and cold in garnering 15 points before fouling out. Eddie Argenbright had trouble hitting the hoop, but tallied 12 points. Co-captain Jiggs Fine performed well in his final game as a Silvertip scoring 10 points.

The Farmers started fast, holding leads of 6-1 and 10-5. Rhoades and Howard mixed free throws with buckets as the Grizzlies kept ahead, 17-16. Forward Lee Boothe flipped four howitzers toward the corner to keep the Utahs in the running. Howard's hook shots and Rhoades' twist-ins earheaded the Silvertips to their nearest lead, 21-18.

Heavyside Dave Anderson slipped down for three layins on fast breaks and the Farmers sprinted away. Boothe made his presence felt, joining the scoring circus. Howard hit at intervals on winning hooks to score seven of the last eight Grizzly points in the first half. Farmers led 41-28 at intermission.

The Grizzlies' four-man attack of Argenbright, Howard, Rhoades, and Fine accounted for all but four of Montana's points as the Grizzlies struggled to close the gap in the second half. The Silvertips swept to within four points of the Utahs before the attack stalled.

Howard hooked 15 points during the second half to set a new MSU sophomore scoring record of 17.2 points per game. The 6'6" center eclipsed Bob Cope's record set in 1948.

Cordell Brown's rebounding, combined with balding Pat Dunn's dribbling, helped stall the Grizzly offense. Reserve Adams helped with 14 points in the second half as swift passing and sure shooting brought the Utahs their ninth conference victory in 14 efforts. Maury Colberg, Grizzly reserve, sparked during his brief stay in the game as he garnered 5 rebounds off the backboards and swept in for a crowd-stimulating layin. Argenbright justified his most valuable player award with 10 last-half points and a ball-hawking floor game.

Witches, Senator McCarthy Inspired "The Crucible"

Arthur Miller's "The Crucible," patterned in part on certain aspects of the McCarthy hearings, opens March 10 in the music school auditorium for a three day run. The main idea of "The Crucible" is that the accuser is not always right simply on the basis of his accusation. The inspiration for the play probably came to Miller as a result of the McCarthy hearings.

The play deals with a witch hunt in Salem, Mass., toward the end of the 17th century. It is the story of a community in which there is such dissension and suspicion that the cry of "witch" was immediately taken up by the mass of the people.

Girls Accuse

A group of young girls, brought up in this restricted community, accidentally find that they can wield tremendous power over the community by preying on the suspicions of adults. They do this by accusing members of the community of associating with the evil. Within a short time the accusation by these girls was sufficient to cause a person to be jailed as a witch.

John Proctor, a down-to-earth honest farmer, is caught up in this cry of witchcraft. The girls' accusation of Proctor began when he maintained that his wife was innocent of collaboration with the evil. Instead of confessing to collaboration with the devil and repenting Proctor insists on his own innocence and as a result is hanged.

History Proves

The play follows almost identically the actual historical situation of the times.

Although "The Crucible" is Miller's best written play, he is probably more widely known for "The Death of a Salesman." "The Crucible" was said to be "one of the most exciting plays on Broadway."

The MSU presentation will be a reading performance.

Tickets for the play are available in the music school office or at the university business office.

Skiers to Sponsor Second Week End

Due to popular demand, the MSU Ski Club is sponsoring a second annual Ski Weekend at Whitefish, March 25-27, according to Rae Young, Billings, chairman of the event.

Tickets must be picked up in the Lodge, March 7-10, by placing a $10 deposit. The balance, which must be paid by March 24, will be $8.50 or $8, according to Young.

The Ski Weekend will again include night skiing Friday night and a torch parade Saturday night, plus skiing Saturday and Sunday on either the rope tow or the T-bar tow on Big mountain.

'bout the Size of It

Evening Lenten services will be conducted tonight by the Presbyterian members of Interchurch council at 9:45 in the AWS room in the Lodge.

The Rev. Glenn Husby, pastor of the St. Paul's Lutheran church, Missoula, will conduct noon Lenten Meditations today in Main hall auditorium, Room 205, at 12:40 p.m.

Homearts Club Active Since 1913, Open to Home Ec Majors, Minors

By SUE MUNN

The Homearts club, an organization open to any home economics major or minor, has been an active group on campus since 1913-14, according to Joanne Guilbault, Missoula, president.

The club has three main purposes, to meet and get acquainted with the home economics faculty, to become acquainted with others in the field, and to learn more entertainment was a skit depicting eating in the Lodge.

Phi Sigma Kappa

Pledges were successful in sneaking Monday night. A smoker honoring alumni will be held Friday night. Pledges will be honored at a party Saturday afternoon.

about the profession through association.

The club, affiliated with the American Home Economics association, meets every two weeks. These meetings usually feature demonstrations and talks by persons trained in different phases of home economics.

In December, Mrs. Grace Maughan from the Gift Shop gave a demonstration on gift wrapping. Girls from Missoula high school attended.

In January, the Foresters gave the Homearts club a party with dancing and refreshments. Also in January, Mrs. Jennie Scott from Luce's spoke on interior decoration, showed color combinations in materials and demonstrated furniture arrangement.

At the beginning of the 1954-55 school year, all freshmen who planned to major in home economics were entertained at an informal mixer and tea at the Home Living Center.

Also last fall, the club held an initiation, bringing 15 freshmen into the group. There are about 30 members in the club, according to Miss Guilbault.

Officers besides Miss Guilbault include Ann Woods, vice-president; Faustine Brown, secretary; Ann Hendrickson, publicity chairman; Mary Doherty, program chairman, all of Missoula and Pat Gessner, Cascade, treasurer. Miss Helen Hollandsworth, assistant professor of home economics, is teacher-trainer for the group.

PROFESSOR LINE TO SPEAK AT SEATTLE MEET TODAY

Prof. Robert Line of the business administration school will address the Washington State International Marketing conference on "Marketing Foreign Goods in the United States" this morning it was announced by Dean Smith.

Basketball Interest Rises

Jiggs Dahlberg coached his final Grizzly basketball game last night as the MSU cage squad finished the season against Utah State.

In 16 years of coaching at MSU, Dahlberg won 222 and lost 224. The 1954-55 basketball team completed its fourth year of Skyline competition with four conference wins and 10 losses. Dahlberg's record over 200 wins ranks him as one of the winningest coaches in the nation but this year's Grizzly Skyline record ranks MSU as one of the losing teams in the conference.

Records are important to basketball coaches and teachers but perhaps more important is the fact that some of the greatest strides in MSU basketball were made during the last two years. A Field House was built, and a group of the best high school basketball players in the state were drawn to MSU last year. This group became known as the "Fabulous Frogs." These freshmen (now sophomores) built a lot of interest in MSU basketball. With a new Field House to take care of the interested people, basketball attendance increased rapidly. An estimated average of 4,500 people per game watched the Grizzlies play 12 home contests this season.

The Grizzly booster nights sponsored by ASMSU fostered statewide interest in University basketball.

If interest continues to climb as it has this year, financial support will likely be easier to secure. More money will result in better teams and better teams will again promote more interest.

If this cycle which started under Dahlberg is complete, MSU should have little trouble ranking among the Skyline's best in the future.—B.N.

Z FINE: Lanky co-captain Silvertips, former all-stater in 1950 Kalispell team that big 16 and state tournament, three-year Grizzly letterman. donned the Grizzly colors last time last night.

a freshman in the 1951 sea-fuzz sparked a quint in Ed Anderson and Rich on to five straight victories with 78 points. Following a year out of school, the 6'5" forward netted 85 points in 23 games as a sophomore. Totalling 25 baskets and 35 free throws for the season, his fourth-quarter tosses made several Grizzly wins. Performing in 25 contests last year, Fuzz collected 143 points, alternating as a regular. This season he scored 122 points, coining 16 against BYU here and 15 in the Grizzly 66-60 conquest of New Mexico. Fuzz cut cord on 11 of 12 gift tosses against the Lobos and 10 of 12 in the Cougar contest.

DAVE ADAMS: Shelved by injuries since Jan. 28, the former Wyoming high school star and Silvertip co-captain leaves a reputation as a hustler and a ball-hawk. He and Hal Winterholler spent two years at Casper Junior college, each leading the cage squad in scoring one year. After an interlude in the army, Adams became a Grizzly, notching 100 points as a junior last year. The 6'1" forward held his own under the basket with Skyline cagers who towered over him. He coined 40 of 64 free throws for a sparkling .623 mark. Prior to his injury, Dave performed in 14 games this season, cutting the cords for 55 markers. His 14 points were the boost that enabled the Tips to forge over Gonzaga, 73-71, during early season play.

GEORGE SAMUELSON: "Big Sam" came to Montana after leading a strong Glendive hardwood five for two years at center slot. Also a three-year gridiron monogram winner, Sam lettered three times as a Silvertip hoopster. He paced the team as a freshman performer with 155 points and became the only member of his frosh squad to survive as a current Grizzly.

Sam pushed through 31 points as a sophomore, upping his total to 151 last year. Frequently starting at center, Sam's fakes drew numerous fouls and his work off the boards was commendable.

Handicapped this year by a football injury, Sam scored 13 points as second team center.

HAL WINTERHOLLER: Aggressive guard and former Casper Wyoming Junior college high scorer, the Korean veteran entered the Grizzly scene as a junior last year, scoring 55 points. Participating in 21 contests, the 6'1" guard with the football build earned his way as a ball-handler and a specialist on driving lay-ins.

Restrained by injuries this season, "Weinie" hooped 26 points in 10 outings. He hit eight of nine free throws in a losing cause against Washington State, pouring through 12 points in his best performance of the season.

"Weinie" played high school ball at Worland, Wyo., where he was a regular fixture in the basketball and football lineups for two years.

J-School Keglers Gain 1st Place Tie

Journalism went back into a first place tie with Natural Science by sweeping three from Air Science while Natural Science lost one of three to Chemistry-Pharmacy in Tuesday night's bowling.

In other games, Business Administration took three from Administration, and Physical Education took two of three from Forestry.

Business Administration set a new season record for the high team series with 2504 and also rolled the high team game with 877. High individual series went to Ted Smith, Business Administration, with 542 and high game went to Sgt. Ray Rickett of Air Science with 220.

League standings: Natural Science, 40-23; Journalism, 40-23; Chem-Pharm, 37-26; Physical Education, 32-31; Administration, 29-34; Business Administration, 28-35; Air Science, 23-40, and Forestry, 23-40.

Collegians Top Cubs, 63-55, In Overtime

The Missoula Collegians overcame a one-point half-time deficit last night to defeat the MSU Cubs, 63-55, in an overtime period behind the 22-point clutch-shooting of Don Scothorn, former Colorado A&M star.

Hal Webb ably backed Scothorn with 20 points, while Russ Sheriff tallied 17 for the Cubs.

The Cubs led the Collegians the entire first half as Norm Kamp-schr, Sheriff, and Pete Rhinehart set the pace for the junior Grizzlies. Kamp-schr, who led the first-half scoring parade with 11 points, hit four of 10 field goal attempts and Rhinehart hit three of six as the Cubs took a 29-28 half-time lead.

The second half was nip-and-tuck until the Collegians took a 48-45 lead with eight minutes to play. Then Jerry Hathaway scored a free throw and Sheriff hit a tip-in to knot the score. Scothorn swished a jump, but Rhinehart countered with a set and Sheriff canned a two-handed jump to put the Cubs ahead, 52-50. Webb snapped a hook for the Collegians, and the veterans stalled for two minutes to get one final shot before the game went into an overtime period.

"Tip Tankers Seek Laurels In Swim Meet

An 11-man Grizzly swimming team, champion of the Skyline Western division, begins a quest for conference laurels today as the Skyline championship meet opens at Brigham City, Utah, with the 1,500-meter freestyle race.

Denver Pioneers, last year's Skyline swimming champs, rate as favorites in the three-day meet. Six of Denver's lettermen returned from last year's squad, including All-American Don Brown, who holds Skyline records for the 1,500-meter freestyle, 220-yard freestyle, 220-yard freestyle, 100-yard backstroke and the 150-yard individual medley.

Other lettermen who will see action for the Eastern division champions are Thayer Masoner, who copped conference titles in three distance events last season; Dave Demmin, 100-yard freestyle record-holder; John Williams and Earl Heston, who took first and third places in Skyline diving; and Jim Wolff, a steady sprint man.

Colorado A&M and Montana promise to be top contenders. The Rams, who finished second to Denver in last year's meet and trailed the Pioneers in the Eastern division splash Feb. 26, are reported to be weaker than last year, even though six lettermen form the nucleus of the Ram squad. Team captain Don Jackson, a distance man, heads the Colorado A&M tankmen.

Montana, who finished third last season, will be represented by captain Jack Daniels, Charles Dawson, John Rounds, Bruce Ferguson, Elvin Choong, Chuck Gruhn, Dallard Johnson, Ken Cardwell, Gene Kuhns, Bob Moore and Fred Yale.

Morning Work Available, Says Miss Van Duser

Students can take advantage of a number of part time morning jobs by registering with Cyrille Van Duser, student employment service director, or Maxine Black, assistant. The service is located at the control desk in the lounge of the Lodge.

Fall quarter Miss Van Duser and Mrs. Black placed 478 students in odd jobs, and 132 in jobs that extend through the year. Since Jan. 1, 33 students have filled permanent jobs, and 58 have done odd jobs. Pay ranges from 50 cents to $1.84 an hour.

The odd jobs are from one to three hours duration, and include typing and babysitting for women.

Businessmen downtown are co-operating in finding jobs for students in their business. More jobs, such as window washing, will be available at the end of the quarter, according to Miss Van Duser.

Beware—"Watch Your P's and Q's" Or Take Care "This Is Your Life"

By BILL THOMPSON

You don't hear it around so much anymore, but at one time everyone knew the expression, "watch your P's and Q's," was a kind of friendly warning. It was usually given with the intention of preventing someone from getting into trouble by continuing some activity in which he was engaged.

For instance, if you were to run into a friend downtown who looked as if his celebrations were about to get the best of him, you could tell him to watch his P's and Q's because at one time these letters stood for—pints and quarts of—well, you guess.

Other professions besides that of elbow bending also used the phrase. A printer's apprentice would hear it at the same time he received a smart rap on the head from the journeyman printer. In the days when printing type was stored, each letter to its own compartment, the apprentice often confused his P's with his Q's, and got them into the wrong place.

From the French translation for "feet" and "wigs" which are "pieds" and "queues" comes another use for the warning. French nobleman, too into impressing a mademoiselle, his courtly bow, involving foot-work, often forgot about fashionable wig on his head slipping to the ground, spoiling whole gallant gesture.

Even today, the old warning has a good application. The student especially should watch P's and Q's, because in the couple of weeks the Prof and their Questions, depending how often you see the first listen to the second, will make a big difference on the final
